

Istanbul to London

by Angie

“Hi Bro.

Next was Istanbul. Constantinople, Byzantium. Fogs and mullahs, sweet tea and bazaars, wild nightclubs, the Hagia Sophia.

Vincent, this FEELS like the gateway to Asia and the Silk Road. Also where worlds meet, mingle with grace. A melding of all that is romantic with all that is practical. Overwhelmingly amazing.

So from the romantic to the merely unbreakable, solid. London.

You can walk alone, breathe the ancient air. Stone 2000 years old, glass towers, humming highways. This is our culture and I rejoice that it exists, inimitable. Peace and prosperity unlike anywhere else.

Love it too much. Goodbye.”
